CLYTIE // [[85][-39]] APRIL 23.07.09 // oh how the mods make fools of us time and time again. aren't they supposed to be of service unto us? well, i wager that it is the far opposite. i know i am not alone when i say that they play with our hearts—oh how they play! and for what but sheer boredom, non concern, pleasure—or for whatever reason = reason never enough. i, just as the other, dislike a post on politics, preach, or prying—however, there comes a time to speak up.
 moderator @SUN broke my user heart time and time again. my poor tiny naive(?) user heart and yet, time and time again, i crawled back to him whenever he called rather messaged (and let the record show that he called and we exchanged physical words not once) to make his deposit. i could not recall the sound of his voice if i tried.....i wont go on. not in that vein.
 i demand some respect for the victims yes the victims past present future of the careless heartless lawless mods. it would be impossible to track the damage, both physical and emotional, done already. even tonight another life is ruined, another princess sullied and now worth a damn shit to her king.
 our thoughts and prayers are with you oh brave princess @LEUCOTHOE, we hope your kingdom nor your dear father's pocket suffers not too much a loss ='( if a mod is too big for repercussions then a mod is too big period. if you have had a terrible gut wrenching life ruining experience with one of our faithful moderators i implore you to write about it in the comment section..we all very very much wanna hear every gory detail #neveragain #togetherwewin #usersvsmod }}
